

Carolyn Caranante Bio.

Carolyn Caranante is a Registered Architect and Project Manager at AECOM Tishman, and she specializes in managing high rise construction projects in New York. Carolyn works closely with designers, owners, and contractors to troubleshoot field issues as they arise, and make design decisions where required. She has managed architectural work on several iconic superstructures including One World Trade Center, Manhattan West, One Vanderbilt, and 270 Park Avenue.

Carolyn graduated from Carnegie Mellon University with a Bachelor's degree in Architecture and a Master's of Science in Architecture, Engineering and Construction Management. She began her career assisting in the design of sets for daytime television soap operas, and renovating houses in Staten Island, NY. Her international work experience includes work in China, Norway and Canada. Carolyn is a lecturer at Columbia University, and an active member of HGAR Women in Commercial Real Estate.