

SUE COPENING

Bradford and Company

Sue Copening has taught on behalf of Bradford and Company for over nine years. As a former Real Estate agent, and current Real Estate Investor, she offers unique and valuable insights on growing a business.

As an entrepreneur, Sue founded the largest networking organization in Central Florida and spent years helping small businesses with marketing and growth. Her combined experience as a Bradford instructor and an accomplished national trainer/consultant will give you a new perspective on your taxes and how to keep more money you earn! Sue loves helping fellow professionals pocket more money and make their life less taxing.
