

STEVE GROSS

Economic Development Director
Orange County

Steve Gross is a lifelong resident of Orange County, NY.

Mr. Gross has been a career government administrator having worked for over 27 years in government in Orange County, NY. After holding the position of Assistant to the City Manager in the City of Newburgh, Mr. Gross went on to a distinguished career in Orange County Government. Gross has worked for three county executives in various high-level capacities and held the positions of Assistant to the County Executive, County Director of Operations and Cost Control, Deputy County Executive and for more than 12 years he served as Commissioner of Human Resources and Civil Service handling Civil Service administration and labor negotiations with seven unions.

Mr. Gross is presently the Orange County Director of Economic Development. In this important role, he works with County Executive Steve Neuhaus to expand the tax base and bring jobs, industry and commerce to Orange County, NY.